—PINARA & KAYAKÖY—

It is near Minare Village at a distance of 45 km to Fethiye. In Lichean language, Pinale or Pinara means "round". In accordance with mythology, when the population of Xanthos increased too much, a group of old people left the city and established Pinara City on a round hill at the skirts of Kragos Mountain. The remainders of the city that could reach today are the ruins of the rock graves and sarcophagus graves and buildings such as city walls, bath, theatre, agora, Odeon.

Pinara had been witnessed to several other civilizations and kingdoms which played important roles on Anatolian Peninsula.

Kayaköy was a settlement region of Rums (Greeks of Turkish Nationality) in the 14th century. It was founded on the lands of ancient city Karmillassos which had been demolished almost completely excluding a few home-type tombs due to earthquakes. Its ancient name is Levissi.

Becoming united with the people of surrounding five Turkish villages and teaching humanity on the concepts of friendship, brotherhood, and peace throughout its history, Kayaköy is one of the most important regions to be proud of. According to the agreement of population exchange signed between Turkish and Greek governments in 1922, Rums living in Kayaköy were exchanged by Turks living in the western thrace. The Greek town left abandoned and it is like a ghost town now.

Church and many other buildings to be visited to feel the early 1900's atmosphere. It is a quiet interesting experience.
